...OR DON'T YOU?

Obeying all these rules is nearly impossible. Few even try, and even fewer even know all the school rules there are. Of course, these regulations are a necessary bureaucratic evil in a school of this size.

Are you a violator of some school rule somewhere? Do you . . .

- share a locker with a friend?
- accumulate unexcused absences?
- slide into your seat after the last bell?
- park in the faculty parking lot?
- loiter?
- gamble? (This includes pitching pennies)
- wear your coat to class?
- wander the halls during class?
- attend school or school activities while in an altered state of mind?
- neglect to schedule or drop and add classes at the proper time?
